

Conditional Permission (Component Hosting)

Server Component Hosting Conditional Permission. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in (i) Section 15.3 (Acceptable use of offerings) or (ii) the Subscription Types definition of Multi-User Subscription in the Autodesk Terms of Use, or (iii) in the Autodesk License and Services Agreement, Section 2.1.1 “No License Granted; Unauthorized Activities” and the definition of “Networked Basis”, as applicable, if You have a Qualified Server Component Offering, defined below, you may, in addition to the manner of installation and access permitted in the applicable terms, also install the network license server component of the software which acts as a file server (or such other component described in the applicable product documentation as being permitted to be installed on computers or devices outside of your local area network and remotely accessed by your users and personnel) on (1) a computer or other electronic device in your wide area network, or (2) on a computer or other electronic device at a third party data center, and permit your Authorized Users and/or Personnel, as applicable, to access the software remotely over the internet, through a VPN or otherwise, subject to all conditions and limitations contained in these permission terms and conditions.

Conditions and Limitations.

- Security and Access Control. If you elect to install software on a wide area network or at a third-party data center, you must retain control of access to and use of the software by your users, and the hosting facility must use current industry standard security, encryption and protection mechanisms to prevent unauthorized access to the Software.
- Applicable only to Qualified Offerings. The above permission applies only to the specified components contained in a Qualified Server Component Offerings. Qualified Server Component Offerings include:
 - (i) Software on Multi-User Subscription, not otherwise excluded by these terms; and
 - (ii) Software licensed under a perpetual license, covered by an active maintenance plan, with a License Type permitting use on a Networked Basis; and
 - (iii) Software not covered by either (i) or (ii) above, but which includes a component described in the applicable documentation as being permitted to be installed on computers or devices outside of your local area network and remotely accessed by your users and personnel. Software in this category is identified in the Hostable Component Products List accompanying this permission.
- Not Applicable to Specified Software. The permission does not apply to software listed on the Virtualization Excluded Software List. You can find that list here: www.autodesk.com/virtualization-exclusions

Autodesk will periodically update the Virtualization Excluded Software List to add and remove software from the list. All additions to the list are applicable prospectively. All removals from the list are retroactive.

Conditions on Support for Qualified Server Component Offerings.

For software components that you install on computers or devices on your wide area network or at a third party data center under these terms and conditions, Autodesk will support such software components in accordance with the applicable terms governing technical support for your offering, except that Autodesk is not obligated to provide support services for support requests where the reported incident cannot be reproduced on a physical machine located on your local area network or locally in Autodesk's own support environment. Autodesk has no obligation to provide support for incidents to the extent caused by or related to any third-party hosting technology or your own wide area network hosting environment, including, without limitation, no obligation to assist with compatibility or interoperability issues related to use of any Autodesk software with any third-party hosting technology or other non-local hosting environment.

Disclaimer; Assumption of Risk.

By exercising rights under this permission, you acknowledge that Autodesk does not promise or commit to of any particular level of compatibility between any Autodesk software and any third-party hosting technology. You assume all risks associated with such use, including, but not limited to incompatibility between software and third-party hosting technology and/or your non-local area network environment.

Terms of Use and License and Services Agreement Remain in Effect.

Except as expressly modified by this permission the terms of the Autodesk Terms of Use or License and Services Agreement, as applicable, remain in full force and effect, unmodified, with respect to the software.
