This plugin can be used to batch upgrade previous versions of Revit files to the current Revit format. The tool is intended to help upgrade family contents, template files as well as project files. Every time users open a Revit file which was saved in a previous version of Revit, a standard dialog is displayed in the Revit user interface stating that the file is being upgraded. During the display of this dialog, Revit tries to upgrade the document to the current version. This slows down the process of opening a file.

To save the time in opening a file created in older versions during each of the subsequent attempts to open the file, users can manually open each of the Revit files created in previous versions of Revit and click Save As to save it in the current version. This can be time-consuming.

Description to be displayed for this item on the product page (4000 characters).
