- Soon after you submit the form a BlueSnap representative will send you an email with the full merchant application form that BlueSnap uses for KYC (Know Your Customer) compliance to enable BlueSnap to process payments for you. Please send it back with the requested info and attachments:
  - A government issued ID (passport or driver's license)

- Your company's Article of Incorporation, or equivalent local document
- A voided check or a letter from your bank verifying your bank account details
- Along with the full merchant application you will also receive access to the BlueSnap Console in Test mode. Your BlueSnap Console will be upgraded to production mode after your merchant application is fully completed and approved.

Note: The BlueSnap Console is where you will set up your products, pricing, and payment information. You can begin the configuration step while it is in test mode.

2) Configure your BlueSnap® account settings

These instructions will help you set up your BlueSnap Console to work with the Autodesk App Store. You may configure while in test mode or production mode.

- Login to your BlueSnap Console, https://cp.bluesnap.com/jsp/developer\_login.jsp.
- Configure your purchase flow encryption and settings

- Click "Payment Methods"
